About curiosity

Seriously – why do we always have to decide on just one dish in a restaurant?

How often do we realize we would have enjoyed something else just as well, if not better? And why do we like to nosh from other people's plates? Do we trust our own curiosity enough to get a large portion of something we don't know?

Here at „ProbierMahl“ it's all a bit different:

Do you have a big appetite or just a small craving? Are you in a rush. Or do you want a lavish dinner with friends? Or maybe you'd just like to try something new, something you've never had before?

Unadulterated enjoyment! As you like it.
